1. VICE-CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Central University of Karnataka (CUK) is a young institution. During its short span it made its mark in the field of higher education in the country with its commitment to academic excellence and quality research and publications. For the past one decade, the University strived its best to translate its vision and mission in letter and spirit and achieved a significant growth in academic pursuits, in the creation of infrastructure and in the creation of an intellectual ambience and thereby taking the University onto the national canvas. The commitment of faculty members, the devotion of students, the dedication of non-teaching staff and other stakeholders have made this singularly significant achievement possible.

Central University of Karnataka is situated in a geographically remote but culturally diverse place, 'Kalaburagi'. Historically, it is the land of intellectuals and revolutionary leaders. This inspires us to retain the spirit of the land and makes the University a cradle of knowledge with potential of a global institution covering the fields of Humanities, Arts, Commerce, Management and, Science and Technology. At CUK, special emphasis is put on knowledge assimilation, dissemination, creation and social outreach. The University takes appropriate initiatives to address the water scarcity and sustainable energy issues through smart solutions like rain water harvesting, solar power generation and efficient resource management.

Today, the campus is on its way to become a self-sustained habitat. At present, there are twenty-six departments under thirteen schools. The University has recently established Departments of Public Administration, Folkloristics and Tribal Studies, Foreign Languages Studies, Journalism and Mass Communication and Music and Fine arts to offer avenues of critical, liberal and career-oriented learning to prospective students. Our special emphasis is on modelling our existing and new programmes of study on the lines of multidisciplinary and skill-based approach enunciated in the New National Education Policy, 2020. The University will also strive to incorporate mechanisms of exit and re-entry options into its academic programmes in the ensuring year. I am happy that the CUK is part of CUCET, 2021 consortium for admissions in various programmes for the ensuing academic year. In the era of fast-paced knowledge society, the University endeavours to create skilled, effective and socially committed human beings. We expect that all the aspirants and stakeholders contribute to this vision and I welcome them to this vibrant place of learning to become part of knowledge creation with a spirit of social service. I sincerely wish students and academic fraternity happy and meaningful moments at CUK.

6. ABOUT KALABURAGI AND KALYANA KARNATAKA REGION

The Central University of Karnataka is situated in the Kalaburagi district in Kalyana Karnataka Region. The region has the oldest ancestral history of 1.2 million years, Isampur being the earliest stone tool making industry during the Palaeolithic period (Stone Age). There has been a consistent occupation (during Palaeolithic, Mesolithic, Neolithic and Iron Age) of the region across the rivers of Bhima, Krishna and Tungabhadra for hunter-gatherers and pastoralists & early agricultural communities until recently 2000 years ago. Maski, Watgal, Budihal, Sangankallu-Kupgal, Piklihal, Hirebenekal etc., are few archaeologically well-studied sites. We find an exciting concentration of Ashoka rock edict sites, such as Sannati, Maski, Gavimath, Udegolam, Nittur and Brahmagiri, indicating the Mauryas in South India and the spread of 'Dhamma' during the 3rd century BCE. Reminiscence of Stupas in Sannati and Kanaganahalli on the bank of river Bhima, suggests the region flourished as prominent Buddhist centres contemporary to Amaravati and Nagarjunakonda that were Buddhist School of Art in their own sense. This has made the Kalyana Karnataka Region a significant centre of cultural and heritage research for 200 years and has attracted eminent foreign scientists from across Eurasia and America.

The formation of rolling plains of black cotton soil (alluvium) for cotton and toor dal (Pigeon Pea/ Cajanus cajan) cultivation, quartz reefs for gold mining and chalcopryrite for copper, manganese for Iron has made chief economic resources of the region. Major political kingdoms of South India, such as Chalukays, Rashtrakuta, Vijayanagara and Bahmani, made their capital in this region. This made a composition of vibrant multilingual and multicultural society throughout the historical period. One can spot recurrent occurrences of forts and hillforts across the region, apart from the fortified capital cities. The region has given birth to acclaimed academicians, literary personalities, religious leaders and philosophers. It houses several philosophical and educational centres, epistemological works, social movements, great dynasties, incredible folk traditions in verbal and non-verbal art forms and industries. The history of this region is enriched in the literature. Many Vachanakaras, Kirtanakaras and Tatvapadakaras hail from this region. Works like Allama's vachanas started an epistemological tradition in the region. There are also many religious and philosophical centres like Sannati, Kanaganahalli, Koppala, Manyakheta (Capital of Rashtrakuta kingdom), Kalyana (Capital of Chalukya kingdom), Bidar, Savalagi, Tintini, Mudgal in the region. Great folk literature, both in verbal and non-verbal ways, are part of regional heritage. The ancient sculptures at Hampi, Shiravala, Evuru, Kalagi, Bidar, Kalyana, Kalaburagi, Itagi etc are worth mentioning. NagaviGhatika in Chittapur taluk of Kalaburagi district was the most sought after the center of higher learning, attracting students and scholars from different corners of India/abroad into the medieval period. MahaVeeracharya (815 A.D.-878 A.D.), an ancient mathematician in the court of Rashtrakuta emperor Amoghavarsha who wrote GanitasaraSangraha and Sri Jayateertha (1365 A.D. -1388 A.D.), a Vedantic scholar also known by the epithet Tikacharya, belonged to Malkhed on the bank of river Kagina of the region. Veeracharya's marvellous mathematical treatise 'GanitasaraSangraha' in Sanskrit verse is a landmark work found relevant even today in several aspects of mathematics. 'Kavirajamarga', the first extant Kannada literary work, was produced by Srivijaya around 850 AD during the period of Amoghavarsha alias Nrupatunga of the Rashtrakutas. The book about the theory of literature, particularly poetry, has played a vital role in according classical language status to Kannada. Vijnaneshwara, a celebrated jurisprudential list, in the court of Vikramaditya- VI, the Kalyani Chalukya emperor, wrote the magnum opus 'Mitakshara', commentary to the Yajnavalkya Smriti, in the 11th century. Hailing from Martur near Kalaburagi, Vijnaneshwara's Mitakshara became the cornerstone of the Indian legal system. It remained the sole justice system throughout India except for Bengal and Assam from the 12th century till India attained independence.

Khawaja Banda Nawaj (1321-1422), a Sufi saint, settled in Gulbarga on the invitation of Bahman king Feroz Shah, was a pioneer in Urdu literature with his work 'Me Rajul Ashikhain'. His Dargah at Kalaburagi has become an important pilgrim centre for Hindu-Muslims all over India and even abroad.

Kalaburagi is one of the three districts transferred from Hyderabad State to Karnataka state at the time of reorganization of the states in 1956. Now among the 31 districts of Karnataka, it is located in the North-Eastern part of state and lies between North latitude 17°10" and 17°45" and between east longitude 76°10" and 77°45". The District is the biggest in the state, covering 8.49% of the area and 5.9 % of the state's population. Kadaganchi is 21 kilometres (13 miles) from Kalaburagi on SH10 highway with frequent KSRTC bus services

Arabic influence, mainly in vocabulary, is seen in European languages mainly Spanish and to a lesser extent in Portuguese and Catalan. Arabic is the principal language of Islamic civilization and the key to understanding the modern Middle East as it is the official language of over 20 countries. It is one of the six official languages at the United Nations and the fifth most spoken language in the world.

Dr. Deepak Samuel is the Dean of the School.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

The Department of Physics offers a 2 year (4 semesters) Master degree programme to prepare students for a career in teaching and research. Students will not be allotted any branch of specialization in Physics at the time of admission. The first two semesters will be devoted to the study of foundation courses in Physics. During Semester II and III the students will have the freedom to study subjects of his/her choice under the guidance of a faculty advisor. The fourth semester is set apart exclusively for a dissertation project. The entire curriculum is designed to prepare a student to enter into a research career in multi-disciplinary areas of science and technology in research organizations and industry. The programme emphasizes on developing scientific and innovative spirit, instilling professional ethics, and a spirit of service to the society at large.

The most attractive feature of the M.Sc programme is the freedom given to the students to decide their domain specializations during the 2nd year of their studies. They would be guided to select from a basket of elective courses focused on a major domain of Physics. They would also have the opportunity to study cross- disciplinary subjects depending on their interest. Thus, the students would be well prepared to contribute to research in multi-disciplinary fields of contemporary interests. Another prominent feature of the M Sc programme is the Dissertation project to be carried out in the 4th semester. The students will be allotted a project at the end of the 2nd semester and they would be required to explore the project topic by self-study during the 3rd semester. At the end of this study they would be required to submit a project proposal to carry out a project in the final semester. This study would be carried out under the supervision of a faculty advisor. The project can also be carried out in a prominent research organization in India. Thus, the project would provide the students with research experience that would enable them to continue further into the Ph D Programme. More details about the Department of Physics is available online at: <http://cuk.ac.in/physics/index.html>
