cordially invites you for a talk on

DAY OF HYBRID CULTURES

Dialogue, Dissent and Contested Legacy of 1492 in Latin America

11 AM- October 12, 2020

Speaker: Dr. Java Singh

Dr. Java Singh is guest lecturer in the Spanish department at Doon University, Dehradun where she teaches undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Latin American history, culture, and literature. She completed her PhD from JNU three years ago. In co-editorship with professor Indrani Mukherjee, her first volume Gendered Ways of Transnational Unbelonging was published by Cambridge Scholars Publishing in 2018 and her new volume Posthumanist Nomadisms is due to be published by the end of the year by Vernon Press, USA. Dr. Java has presented papers at various conferences in Barcelona, Madrid, León, Montevideo, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington DC, Pittsburg, and Toronto. She turned many of these presentations into articles for reputed journals and book chapters.

Dr. Java will explore the concept of recuperación as a means of reclaiming the dignity of pre-colonial art styles and knowledge systems. She will discuss the challenges and ethos of some contemporary revival efforts in Latin America.
